

2007 ALUMINUM FISHING BOATS

PRINCECRAFT®
The More You Know The Better We Look

It's said Princecraft owners are just plain "smarter."
We prefer "better informed."

There are all kinds of intelligence tests that attempt to measure brainpower. And it would seem buying a boat is a kind of fishing IQ test. Because the more you know about what it takes to catch fish, the more discriminating you'll be about the boats you fish from.

And the people who buy Princecraft boats are incredibly discerning. Whether they were born smarter or they gained their insights over years of experience on the water is not a debate we'll take on here. But one thing is certain; Princecraft owners are better educated about what makes a great fish boat. That's why we say, the more you know, the better we look.

Our customers are better informed about thorough design and durable construction. They've learned about all those subtle nuances in comfort and performance that make a huge difference on the lake. They know what model will work best for them, and which options and amenities make a perfect day of fishing even more perfect. Just ask any current Princecraft owners and you'll instantly realize they've done their homework, analyzed and examined, shopped and compared and made a shrewd choice.

Now, there are those who take a shortcut to achieving a master's degree in fishability. Rather than learning hard lessons from other brands and working their way up to a Princecraft, they trust in the best from the start. Considering how important your time on the water is, we'd call that genius.

Super Pro Special Edition

THE ULTIMATE BOAT PACKAGE

Most of fishing is about "feel." Does a particular spot feel right? Can you feel your lure around structure? Will you feel the most finicky of strikes?

Everything about Special Edition boat packages "feels" exactly right. Models are coordinated in a rich metallic-beige color and monochrome interior with matching motor and black trailer, and include many extra special features.
